there is no need of my going with you.
You follow my down and run every detail of thing you see.” We went down and found a wonderful laboratory and thanks to the old “Nutter” we were not entirely lost. Visitors, although there were a number of things we had never seen before.
We found a full sized model of every type of steam engine, gas engine, boiler, pumps, turbines, dynamos, etc. Nearly all the engines, turbines and pumps were run by compressed air. They even had a capable quadruple expansion steam gine, with boilers, service condensers, everything set up just as it is in one of the battleships, even this big unit was run by compressed air.
