posed of large capabilities was amply demonstrated by Mr. Hul's performance.
The act was very much liked by the audience, and the player and soloist were crowned twice each time giving different selection.
A guitar solo by Mr. L. R. O'Farrell followed the Chinese music. Mr. O'Far-rell's happy fingered and playing of the strings together with his cheerful smile brought him several encores to which he responded with tinkling selections and a few more beautiful solos.
Mr. O'Farrell's selection which he abused the guitar and got melody from the instrument was especially appreciated.
Following the guitar solo, the Techology Orchestra again took possession of the stage, and gave a most enjoyable miniature concert in itself. Several very much appreciated selections were played.
The final number of the program of the Musical Night was reached when the orchestra played the Stein Song. The audience arose and sang trio stanzas, and then let the hall to the accomplishment of the Re-man March.

IN THE LIMELIGHT
Well, I guess that Tech has some Muicians. Eh you grinds who took o the few hours to attend Musical Night.
And the Dining Room deserves their share of the praise for the good feed and the way that the crowd were handled.
Congratulations, Mr. Cotlon
