CIVIL ENGINEERS HOLD SMOKER FRIDAY
Meeting in Union to Make Men's Council I Acquainted.

Next Friday evening the Civil Engineering Society will hold its first meeting of the year. It will be arranged so that an informal smoke talk will be given to welcome the new men of the Civil Engineering Courses. All Sophomores and men from other colleges entering the courses in Civil and Sanitary Engineering are cordially invited to attend.

The meeting will be held upstairs in the Union, and will be addressed by Desmond Fitzgerald of Boston, a civil engineer recently connected with the Massachusetts Water Works, and one of the foremost hydraulic and sanitary engineers of the country.

Coach Kanaly will be present to add his interest. All the members of the Engineering Society will be present.

Several new members of the Engineering Society will be introduced and the subsequent business of the meeting will be brought up for consideration.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 P.M. on Friday, September 20th.
