BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE WORLD'S SERIES

Giants Entirely Outclassed in Last Game With Athletics Yesterday.

The Philadelphia Athletics yesterday won the sixth and deciding game of the World’s Series against the New York Giants by the score of 13-2. It was a clear case of the best team winning the series, as New York was outclassed in every game except the first one. When Mathewson was in the best form that he showed during the entire series, clearly winning out from Hender, the Indian. The latter, however, had his revenge in the fourth game, when he put Mathewson in the class of back numbers. Wednesday the game was one of luck and served as a means of threshing out the automatic also turns, a few more shuttle into the coffers of the majors.

New York won the first game from the Athletics by the score of 9-1, but Philadelphia took more than her share of the next games, winning three straight by the scores of 3-1, 5-2 and 4-2. New York came back in the fifth game, winning by the close score of 4-3, although if a timely point had been taken up by the Athletics Larry Doyle would have declared out when he failed to touch the plate with his home, the last play of the game.

The story of this victory was all Mathewson’s, although but a second string pitcher, not only stopped the Athletics, but larcin in the inning run.

The Giants were overenthusiastically defeated in the sixth and deciding game of the series when they were tripped by the score of 13-2. They made an excellent start, when in the first inning Doyle hit the ball pitched for a two-hitter, and Murray sent him in on a sacrifice fly, but the “gloomies” were defeated and the “glooms” moldered in when the Athletics in the fourth inning made four runs. From this time on the game degenerated to a procession with the White Elephant in the lead, and the outcome of the series was not for a moment in doubt.

Thus the baseball season of 1911 closed with the Philadelphia Athletics in possession of the World’s Championship for the second year in succession.

TURKISH-ITALIAN WAR

Serious controversy disposition and to evade such measures as may be proposed, if not imposed, by the powers, have been little explored. He submitted this suggestion in consideration of the fact that no measure of interest has been taken in it. About a half century ago Italy woke up; the Italians began to recollect that they were descended from the conquerors of the world; they felt they were an empire and a world power. They have made several previous attempts to gain territory--some successful, some not. We are now face to face with another manifestation of the landmass.

Only objection to the knot-making class is that it does not teach love knots.
