The Freshmen are ahead of their competitors. For the past six weeks both teams have undergone a process of elimination, and now two good teams are left to contest.

On the morning of Field Day great-interest centers on the outcome of the contest. Victory has gone to the Freshmen.

The Freshmen take great pride in their famed and experienced backfield, Captain Hadley, O’Brien, and the speed of interscholastic football.

Sophomores Conceded Advantage--Under-class Usually Victorious.

This afternoon Technology will meet Harvard in the eighth annual cross-country race held between these two colleges. Of the seven previous races Tech has won four and Harvard three. This year Tech has a well-balanced team which has a good chance to win. It has few individual stars, but is strong as a team.

The first meet was held in 1904, when Tech won by the score of 38 to 40. The next year Harvard turned the tables, scoring 35 points to Tech’s 43. The Institute team won in 1906, but Harvard again turned the following year.

In 1908 Tech won the first of its two great consecutive victories, the score being 35 to 45. In this race three Techmen beat the record for the course and H. H. Hawland, 1909, made the present Tech record. It was in this race that H. J. James of Harvard made the record for the course of 25 minutes, 2.4-5 seconds.

The next year Tech won again, Captain Watrous of Tech finishing first, H. S. Benson second, and W.
