STUG-O-WAR WON
Continued from page 1
Stegal street corners to give the cheers, not forgetting the now established
"We are happy."
The route was headed by a unit.
Once in Copley square, a small dance was made directly across the whole square which accompanied the chorus.
Swenson made a short speech, commending the way the team had be-tered and the way the class had amused it.  The crowd finally dis-up to again meet at the theatre.

HARVARD WINS RACE

Tech push Harvard or make any attempt to regain the lead. The only time the first Crimson runner was threatened by a Tech man was after passing Lawrence's hill.
Harvard, who had been running last in the race, pulled up on the line of runners. He gained steadily on the leaders until he reached the third place.
He was forced to be content with this position, however, up to the finish.

Mr. H. T., the cheer leader, was placed in the center of the track, and the way the class had be-moved the town.
