Juniors Hold Class Dinner Tonight

All-Star Program Arranged by the Committee—Big Eats.

The 1912 Class dinner, to be held in the Union this evening, promises to be one of the most spectacular and most enjoyable of the season. The price of the tickets is sixty-five cents, but the program arranged for this evening's entertainment warrants this expenditure and even more. Tickets may be obtained from the committee and certain members of the Class of 1913.

In addition to the previously arranged program for the evening a entertainment Dean Burrows has consented to be present, along with Professor Dewey and Bursar Rand. These two esteemed faculty will play continuosly during the dinner. A quartet composed of members of the class will render several selections in their best style. Together with souvenir slices and free luncheon one could wish for a better evening's entertainment.

Howard Colton has locked after this end as well as the committee in charge, and has prepared one of his best menus for the occasion.

1913 Class Dinner.

The Hockey Team has issued a call for candidates, and as this is the principal recognized sport outside of track, it is some honor to make the Hockey Team. Last year the team, for the first time in its existence, was able to hold practice indoors, after the completion of the Arena. As a result we had a fine team, and they made excellent showing against many of last year's best colleges and club teams, including Harvard, Dartmouth, Williams, the Amherst Axles and the Loudon Country Club of Albany. Their showing was so bright that the Athletic Association voted to award the members of the team their first contract without any consideration of"new men," and many more vacancies will be filled this year, and many more vacancies will be held January 12th, 1912. There are so many vacancies this year that the Corps of Engineers of the United States Military Academy remaining after the conclusion of a certain definite number of graduates of the Military Academy will be filled each year by competitive examination of graduates of "engineering colleges," approved by the Advisory Board.

To the Editor of THE TECH:—Dear Sir:—

According to an Act of Congress in the last session, vacancies in the Corps of Engineers of the United States Military Academy remaining after the examination of a certain definite number of graduates of the Military Academy will be filled each year by competitive examination of graduates of "engineering colleges," approved by the Advisory Board. This is the first time the Corps of Engineers has been opened to any but graduates of the Military Academy. The first examination to fill quite a number of vacancies will be held January 13th, 1912. There are so many vacancies that probably only a partial number of them will be filled this year, and the chances will be good for several years without considering new candidates. I have received from the War Department the papers relating to these examinations and will be pleased to give any information to anyone interested.

I enclose a copy of the present under-graduate body who will be eligible for the cooling examination it may interest some of the graduates of new years who can be reached by THE TECH as well as have future interest in some of those approaching graduation. I would be pleased if you would make a note of the fact or if you should desire I will give you the full set of orders for publication.

Very respectfully,
