First Annual Dinner
Chauncy Hall Club

Dean Burton, Blachstein and Headmaster Kurt Give Short Talks.

The newly inaugurated Chauncy Hall Club enjoyed its first dinner in the Union Thursday night, with an actendance of thirty-one men. A most excellent dinner was provided by Steward Court, which included Budweiser and smoked oysters. The surprise to the men as they entered, for it had been arranged, cards with a hand-painted illustration of the Chauncy Hall Building on the cover.
The guests of the club were the Dean, Mr. Blachstein and Headmaster Kurt of the school.

Dean Burton, the first speaker, high-ylighted the idea of keeping abreast of the times, and organized the men in the commercial world in the future. President Emeritus Elliot is noted among the big men of the school, and in his talk he made it a second Cosmopolitan Club.

In his highly interesting manner, Mr. Blachstein gave reminiscences of former members of the school, and framed his masterpiece on W. A.
Rosky, 1918, in saying thatReady was ready, referring to the fact that he had presented the class of 1918 with its class baby.

Mr. Kurt was given a fine introduction by President Peck of the Club, and began with an outline of the history of the school. After stating that there were over 7000 alumni he closed ready, referring to the fact that he had presented the class of 1918 with
its class baby.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of THE TECH: May I ask you to make public the fact that students in the thirty-third question in public speaking are always glad to welcome other students in the class? The hour is Monday, at 9 A.M., the room, 23 Walker. It is, unfortunately, an hour too late to convenient for third-year students, but first and second-year men are likely to take the period free.

On November 27 Mr. Edwin C.
Miller, Class of 1879, has promised to be present, and will tell the students something of his experi-cences as a public speaker. Mr. Miller is a

over a month then you get the smooth, full flavored, good tasting smoke that the southern planters themselves like. Never a bit in such tobacco.

Velvet! Don't forget!
