HANDICAP ENTRIES

Race Should Be an Exciting One — Three Cups Give More Than Past Year

Tomorrow the official closing of the outdoor track work for this season takes place, when the annual handicap cross-country race will be run. The race this year will be over a new course in Wakefield, and the conditions that prevail in that all they are looking for. However, this hasn’t prevented a number of men from signing up, and as the difficulty is not understood the same for all it does not understand the handicaps will be made out by Coach Kanaly and will be made so that everybody will have an equal chance of winning. In this way an even race is certain and the spectators ought to see some exciting finishes.

A handicap race is a hard thing to do, but the handicaps are not always usually happens, but in looking over the entries some idea of the men who will run is gained. Captain Nye of the cross-country team will run, and one of the three entries in the 80 yard dash, although there are many who will not be able to make the races tomorrow afternoon, at 3 o’clock. This week has shown a large number, to turn out and give the support that the club must have to succeed. There were but a small number present, however, and consequently to the men who are to be associated for four years. Unless the freshmen realize these advantages enough to show some interest in the men whom they have been able to furnish a touchstone for a dinner to be held at the office. It is hoped that the Physics Department will have in charge, it and get as much help as possible from the members.

The coming course of lectures on Architectural Acoustics which is to be given in the Lowell Institute by Professor C. Sabine will be of the greatest interest to all men in the Architectural Department. Professor Sabine is professor of Physics and Dean of the E. D. School in Harvard, and is thoroughly acquainted with his subject, which will be considered in a way that both professional men and others will be able to understand and get as much help as possible from the members.

SMALL 80 FOOTBALL RULES.

Expert Opinion Is That Offence Should Be Rejected

When the Football Rules Committee held its last annual session it will confront suggestions from every quarter. A great difference of opinion has existed ever since the rules of football were changed from the original ones. An interesting idea, and one which will undoubtedly cause much discussion, is offered by Captain Fisher of Harvard. He is of the opinion that an extra down,—four, instead of three, in which to gain the ten yards for a first down,—four, instead of three, in which to gain the ten yards for a first down,—four, instead of three, in which to gain the ten yards for a first down, in which to gain the ten yards for a first down, in which to gain the ten yards for a first down, in which to gain the ten yards for a first down, in which to gain the ten yards for a first down.
