BASKETBALL MEETING.

College Rules Committee to Discuss Game's Regulations.

This afternoon, in the gymnasium of the Columbia University, New York, there will be held a meeting of the College Rules Committee. The purpose of this meeting will be to review and improve the playing rules for the coming season. Each rule is to be thoroughly taken up and explained for the benefit of the players, coaches and officials present. Special attention is to be given to the forming of rules governing player offenses that are hard to detect, such as the on-the-run rule.

The committee has invited all college and large school representatives to send a representative to this meeting. As a result, a large gathering of referees, umpires, secretaries, coaches, managers and captains is expected to be present.

Unfortunately M. I. T. is unable to have anybody at this conference. Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft, chairman of the committee, will have charge of the meeting. Among other well-known basketball authorities who will attend are: Dr. E. I. R. Gilmore, of Princeton, chairman of the committee; Mr. Harold F. Pope, Columbia, and Oswald Taras, Williams. Similar meetings will be held at the same time by the Rules Committee at Chicago, Illinois, and Lawrence, Kansas.

Desmond Fitzgerald

To Speak at Open Exercises in "Public Speaking" Monday.

Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald, of the Corporation, has promised to be present and address the students at the Monday exercises of the third-year option in public speaking. This announcement should meet with much approval from the public speaking students, for they are promised a man of truly remarkable talents, a widely known man. Mr. Fitzgerald is one of the best known educators in New England. He has traveled extensively in Europe, Asia and Africa, studying the different peoples and their customs. About a week ago he spoke at the first ladies' night of the technology club. He has in his possession many views and slides of the most noted foreign wonders and beauty spots. Mr. Fitzgerald is peculiar in ease when speaking before any audience, and the students are sure to get some excellent pointers on how to hold an audience.

There will be several five-minute speeches by members of the third-year option, following Mr. Fitzgerald's address. The class is held in 23 Walker, at 9:15 A.M., and visitors are welcome as usual.

James Thorpe went to Carlisle in 1908 with no knowledge whatever of athletics. Since then he has accomplished such a great variety of athletic feats on the floor, gridiron, diamond, track and in the field that college and university teams have been astounded by his achievements.

Swimming Meet Today

This afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the Cabot tank, the swimming team holds its first elimination trials. The races will start promptly and will be counted off as quickly as possible, since the free use of the pool is limited to a very short time. The manager asks therefore that the candidates be on hand early so that they may get into the water on time.

The events include the short dashes, the fly, the breast, and the hundred, the two-twenty-yard swim and the plunge for distances. All entrants must report as soon as they arrive at the tank and specify the event which they intend to enter.
