RELAY PRACTICE

in looking over the men at practice in the Gym it looks good to see men taking to the events that we have always been naturally weak in, such as the pole vault and high jump, although in the latter event we have one man that can hold his own against any one, as was clearly shown when Champlin, captain of the team, led for first place in the 100 yard dash and in the F. C. A. A. A. meet held in the Stadium last spring and was tied for first place in the jump. When Dalrymple, captain of the team, announced the team would be practically invincible.
