BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

WINTER CONCERT AND DANCE LOOK PROMISING

Tickets Should Be Exchanged For Seat Checks at Cage.

From today at 8:30 until noon on Thursday, December 14th, tickets for the Winter Concert of the Technology Musical Clubs may be exchanged at the Cage for reserved seat checks. The sale of tickets for this year's concert has far surpassed that of any other year, and it is therefore very important that men who wish to gain seats turn in their tickets at the Cage immediately.

The Winter Concert, which will be held in Copley Hall on the evening of December 15th, promises to be the best yet. The clubs have given several performances in preparation for the concert, and the audience have shown up well in every instance. The program will include a sing-out in the "Pop Concert" tonight, and it is expected to come up to the mark.

It is expected that the musical program will be completed by 8.00 o'clock, and from that time until 1 there will be dancing. Preliminary dance orders will be given out with the reserved seat checks and final orders will be distributed on the evening of the party.

The manager of the Musical Clubs has arranged with Poole's Orchestra to play the dance music and as things look, now the evening will be a great success.

The following ladies have kindly consented to act as ushers:

Mrs. Richard C. Maclean.
Mrs. Alfred E. Burton.
Mrs. Walter Humphreys.
Mrs. Ayme L. Merrill.
Mrs. Henry P. Talbot.

CIVIL SOCIETY.

The Austin Dam Failure to Be Discussed Next Tuesday.

The Civil Engineering Society will hold its open meeting in 6 Lowell next Tuesday afternoon. Professor Shaford has been able to get Professor P. P. McKibben, M. E., '94, to talk on "The Austin Dam Failure." The meeting will begin at 8.00 o'clock, and Professor McKibben has come from Lehigh University to give this lecture to the American Society of Civil Engineers, and the men of Tech will have an excellent opportunity to acquaint themselves with the opinions of a recognized authority. The failure of the Austin Dam is of interest to every engineer, for many questions as to the proper form for foundations are now reopened.

BERLAGE LECTURES.

This led to the conclusion that the art finds its highest consideration in the "sclenceness," and that a general public may be given thst to obtain the greatest unity we must follow nature. He then considered the development of architecture through the ages and made it evident that the strictest mathematical rules have been applied to determine proportions. As a means of clarifying this point many buildings were thrown upon the screen with various geometrical figures traced upon them. He further said that the lack of architecture in Japan is due to the fact that the art is purely true and considers no scientific principles.

In conclusion he stated that it is impossible to follow the principles of poetry and mathematics, and so true progress in architecture, but only as a means to gain an end.

For the convenience of men who live great distances from Cambridge, the Harvard Faculty will grant petitions for extension of time on the Christmas vacation.
