Street Across New Site Declared Closed

Cambridge Ready to Receive Institute — Tech Must Give $10,000 and Some Land.

The path has finally been cleared for the Institute's removal to Cambridge, on last Tuesday night the Cambridge Council and Aldermen voted to grant the petition to close certain streets and remove certain obstructions from the now accepted "new site." The Institute will give to Cambridge, in return for the closing of Ambrose street, land necessary for the widening of Vassar street to sixty feet, land sufficient to extend Ames street to the Reservoir, and to connect Vassar street with Ames street, and also $10,000 for the construction work on those streets necessitated by the closing of Ambrose street.

Resolutions.

In the last issue of THE TECH we were sorry to have to publish an account of the death of one of our most recent graduates. Since then the Class of 1911 has held a meeting and the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas: God in His most infinite wisdom has taken unto Himself His beloved classmate, John Rice Bell; be it Resolved, That the Class of 1911, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in reunion assembled, conscious of its most sincere and heartfelt sympathy to his parents and his brother, and be it further Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the class, published in THE TECH and sent to the bereaved family.

For the Class,

Loyd C. Cooley,
Emerson J. Whitcomb,
Harold B. Allison,
Committee.

Harvard M. E. Society.

Tech students invited to hear their lecture.

The Harvard M. E. Society has extended a cordial invitation to all Tech men to attend a lecture to be given in Pierce Hall on the evening of January 1st. This lecture is to be delivered by one of the students of the class, and it is expected that the talk will be well illustrated by a large number of stereopticon views, and will be further enlivened by the addition of numerous anecdotes. The Harvard society has a reputation of holding mighty interesting meetings, and so it is hoped that many of the men will be able to take advantage of this opportunity to visit our friends across the river.

Tracy Lyon, '12, is now in charge of the lectures of the Department of Electrical Engineering at the Institute. He has been in the field of electrical engineering for some time, and has been associated with many of the leading electrical engineers of the country.
