BIG DANCE PLANNED BY CATHOLIC CLUB

Poole's Orchestra Engaged for the Evening—List of Patrons.

Complete arrangements have now been made for the annual dance to be held by the Tech Catholic Club. The committee have been very fortunate in being able to secure the hallroom of the Hotel Somerset for this big social event. Nothing has been left undone by those in charge in order to make it a bigger success than ever. To further this end they have secured Poole's Orchestra to furnish the music. The dance is to be held on Monday evening, February 12th. It is expected that every member of the Catholic Club will be present that night and help make a success of the dance.

The following ladies have consented to act as matrons: Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Richard C. Mackinnon, Mrs. Augustine J. Daly, Miss M. M. O'Connell, Mrs. James N. Morrow. The list of patrons includes Misses Mary J. Cotter, Mrs. Henry V. Cunningham, Misses T. J. Falvey, Mrs. W. T. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Richard T. Greene, Misses John J. MacGreenery, Mrs. John J. Kennedy, Mrs. M. J. Murphy, Mrs. James S. Murphy and Mrs. J. A. Walsh.

The authors for the affair are: C. H. Harrington, 1912; F. A. Robinson, Jr., 1912; L. A. Harriss, 1915; F. M. McDougall, 1912; R. A. Doane, 1912; T. Reilly, 1915; H. F. Coleman, 1912; J. W. Connolly, 1912; W. J. Buckley, 1912; R. J. Wiseman, 1912, and J. A. Schwartz.

Sydney Arnold Malcolm was born in the State of New York, and graduated from the Course of Sanitary Engineering, died in the home of his parents in Somerville, Mass., January 3rd. He had been ill for some time although making a strong fight for health. The contribution published today from Professor Dwight Porter tells of his life.

In the late Summer following his graduation he took up his engineering work on the Massachusetts Sanitary School, in Boston, and in his Senior year he was president of the student body. He had graduated in June, 1910, in the course of Sanitary Engineering, prepared for the Institute at the English High School, in Boston, and in his Senior year he was president of the student body. He had a great interest in the Tech Show, took a principal part in the performances of 1909 and 1910, and was the author of "That Pill Grim," the play given in the latter year. The play was partly based upon incidents that came under his observation while engaged upon engineering work on the Massachusetts Coast during the Summer vacation of 1908, and much of it was written in bed while convalescing from an illness.

In the late Summer following his graduation, it became evident that his health had become seriously impaired, and although the Winter of 1910-11 was spent at the Lionel Sanitarium in Delaware County, New York, he lost ground. Returning to his home last Spring, he improved for a time, but during the past few weeks has rapidly lost strength. He was widely known among the student body, and his kindly, cheerful spirit won the admiration and respect of his classmates. He was a host of warm friends.
