PORTFOLIO HISTORY
BLANKS NEARLY READY

Seniors Should Fill Them Out
And Return to Committee
As Soon as Possible.

All men in the Senior class will receive the blanks the first week of the month on which they are to put all the material work which they wish to print in the Portfolio, and return them to the committee as soon as possible so that the committee may have time to get it into shape and make any additions that may be needed.

February 28th is the last possible date for submitting photographs, and they should be made as far ahead of that time as possible. The sooner the better, for there is no chance on rush work at the engraver's and at the engraver's as well.

The committee are loaded individually and collectively with signed books, and they ask the men to see them and pay over the preliminary three dollars at once so that they may be able to plan for the number of copies in the issue. There will be an occurrence not to the men who do not sign up, and if none will want books they must sign for them now.

SHOW PROGRESSING.

This men who are to take part. Manager Thayer will open the Freshman competition for the second assistant in the department, which will attract a large number of men.

Manager Whitwell is planning a big advertising campaign in Northampton, Malden, and Providence, R. I., as well as here in the city, and advertising for the accommodations during the various trips. He is also getting together a body of prominent artists, advertising men and business men to form the board of judges for the poster competition, and the results of their work will soon be announced.

The business department have been at work all the year getting ads for the program, setting the details of the contracts with the theatre managers, coach, customer and musical director. The outline of the work is complete, and from a financial viewpoint the show has the best of prospects.

General Manager Weelging has already arranged with the Faculty to have Tuesday afternoon, April 16th, included in the Junior Week recess. He is at present fully engaged in trying for the support and co-operation of the Alumni.

FRESHMAN MEET.

The team is very strong in the mile, with Gurney, Leavitt, Wall and Callahan to depend on. Gurney tied for fourth place in the Freshman meet last Saturday, and should be as good as any of the High School runners. Wall ran on the cross-country team against Brown, and can last any distance. Leavitt has also been out with the long distance men and is a good Mislimer.

Teeen and Curtis are the best of the high jumpers, with the latter getting five feet with regularity, and Teeen doing 5 feet 6 inches last week for second place.

In the shot-put Crowell, O'Brien and hundreds have done the best. Curtis is also strong in the running throw.

REVISED VERSION, 1912.

And the Lord said, "Let there be a man," and there was a man, and that man was called Francis of Lamb. And, behold, that same man is still found upon the earth, at a place called the New Union.

Are you backing Dalrymple to win the high jump?
