Published daily, except Sunday, during the academic year by the students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Entered as second-class matter, Sept. 15, 1881, at the post office at Boston, Mass., under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Managing Board:

C. A. Conk, '13, Editor-in-Chief.
J. H. Waitt, '14, Managing Editor.
A. F. Gibson, '13, Business Manager.
J. H. Higginson, '14, Assistant Business Manager.
G. W. Whitman, '14, Circulation Manager.

News Staff:

J. A. Steere, '15, .................................................. Institute.
B. Lewis, '14, .................................................. Managing Editor.
M. A. Whitman, '14, .......................................... Athletics.
E. W. Shain, '14, ................................................. Athletics.

News Board:

B. F. Hare, '14, .................................................. athletics.
F. P. Barrett, '13, .................................................. Athletics.
E. W. Shain, '14, ................................................. Athletics.

Advertisements:

Printed by Rutter, 147 Columbus Ave.

CORRECTION.

The article published under the heading of "Technique: Planter," in Tuesday's issue, purporting to contain the treasurer's report of Technique, 1913, was in reality the report of Technique, 1912.

ENTHUSIASM.

The type of college man who would rather see a professional ball game than one in which his own college team is a candidate is often the cause of splitting many editorial ink, and more often than not, unpublished remarks. Such a man in explanation of his attitude says readily enough that he goes to see baseball, and the chances of finding what he wants are much on the side of the professional game. That is perfectly true; the question, however, is not transference of the actual business of the game but an altogether new and greater significance. The intelligent observer will always say that the point of view a man takes toward the game and his fellow-workers is as much as the amount and quality of the work he does. No work is to be so insignificant, so humble, that the professor cannot build some of himself into it; it is this work, not that of the man for whom he is doing it. Furthermore, no man can get more than a distorted knowledge of his profession without a sincere and unselfish interest in the methods and attainments of his fellows.

The noted college president of this country has sounded the keynote of the spirit of unselfish enthusiasm into all that he did. At the meeting of the Academic Council, held this week, the following resolution was adopted by the body: "Resolved: That the Academic Council hereby extend to the members of the class of 1915 our heartiest good wishes and hearty congratulations for their willingness to enter upon the important task of unselfish devotion in the service of the cause of education at all levels." The members then adjourned to the large room of the Union and spread at the Hotel Somerset.

The Technical news board.

M. A. H. S. DINNER.

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 1.)

At the dinner meeting held yesterday afternoon, considerable business of general interest to the class was transacted, and details of all sorts are being discussed and decided upon by this organization so that those present at the preliminary Senior dinner to be held at the Union on May 10th, may hear of the entire class and directions for Senior Week completed in every particular. Further information concerning this dinner will appear in an issue of this paper.

MINING SOCIETY.

(Continued from Page 3, Col. 1.)

The annual dinner of the Mining Society was held at the Copley Square Hotel on May 3rd. The guests were welcomed by President M. A. H. S. DINNER, and the entertainment consisted of a dinner and a rich, smooth tobacco and a rich, smooth tobacco.

COLEY SQUARE HOTEL

HUNTINGTON AVENUE, EXETER AND ELACRIN STREET

EASTON, MASS.

Headquarters for Spectacular College and Athletic Teams.

THAYER, MEABNEIL & HODGKINS

15 WEST STREET - - - BOSTON - - - 47 TEMPLE PLACE

THE SMOOTHEST TOBACCO

Three men on bases and no one out! That's the thrill you get in Velvet tobacco. Did you ever fill your pipe with tobacco that has been aged in the leaf two years? Perhaps not in these rapid days—if you want to know the meaning of true mellowness and a rich, smooth flavor ask your dealer for "Velvet."