WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1912

EMBARRASSMENT.

More indications of the closing of the year current every day. With the announcement of the informal Senior dinner to be held in the Union on Friday evening the last steps are being taken to wind up before us. This is a time when the conventional story of the Senior is supposed dourly to recite his tale of woe, and comically to the many opportunities he has wasted. It all sounds very fine until we are in the same position, but do we look back over our Institute course?

First of all there are few of us who regret that the time has come to leave. That sounds, on the surface, to the proper departments.
