NEW TECHNOLOGY.

Electrical Engineering Department Planning for Needs.

During Junior Prom Week Professor Lawrence and Law of the Electrical Engineering department made an extensive trip through many of the large institutions of learning in the East in the interests of the New Technology. They were looking for such buildings as might be suitable by the electrical departments of these institutions so as might be incorporated in the plans for the new buildings at Cambridge.

The party visited the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, the school of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, the Ohio State University at Columbus, the New York College at Albany, the University of Pittsburgh. They then went to Washington to visit the Institute of Standards; then to Philadelphia, to the engineering department of the University of Pennsylvania, and lastly to Princeton, to see the new building of the Physics Department.

The visitors found that at most of the places where they stopped the buildings were new. At Troy, where they spent their first Sunday, the mecanical and electrical engineering departments were housed in the same building, one in each wing. The two combined use of one building was also noted at the Ohio State University.

At the technical schools at Pittsburgh the engineering departments were placed near one another about a

B. A. A. MEET.

The two dashes and the hurdle race were close and good times were made.

Wilkins beat out O'Hara in the hundred by about two yards, in 10.5-5 seconds, and in the two-twenty he easily led Frost and Foster and in the remarkable time of 22.5-5 seconds, as the race was held across the grass field of the lap, the straightaway being too muddy.

In the other dash, the high hurdles, Prout and Foster ran over the last hurdle together, but Prout's sprint brought him in at 16.4-5 seconds.

McLeod led in the broad jump with a jump of 20 feet 81/2 inches, followed by Ali with a leap of 19 feet 10 inches.
Osgood of B. A. A. took third.

The summary:
100-yard dash—Won by Wilkins, T.; second, O'Hara, R. A. A.; third, Rusnell, B. A. A. Time: 10.5-5 seconds.
220-yard dash—Won by Wilkins, T.;

T.; Time: 19.4-5 seconds.

The entries for the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association meet were published today. The Technology entries are among the strongest of any of the 35 colleges entering this meet. The outlook is favorable in the way in which the track team has been turned up in the B. A. A. meet yesterday...
