THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1912

A PRECEDENT.
At the first meeting of the Mining Engineering Society, which took place last evening, a silent, rising vote of the Alumni Association at the rate of more than one a day for the past few months, 363 since January 1, the total being 6106 members. President G. L. Lansing, who has been absent for some time, arrived last week, and since then the close cooperation of the Mining Engineering Society has been established which will be a lasting one.

POLITICS.
It is indeed fitting that political clubs should be formed at the Institute, and we urge every man to ally himself with that political organization if he finds a platform that coincides with his own ideals. A large majority of undergraduates will, upon assuming their places in the outside world, take positions of some real responsibility, whereupon they are likely to find the chosen candidates and the political machine more useful than in the past.

SECOND REHEARSAL.
Banjo Players Have Much to Accomplish With New Scheme.

The second rehearsal of the Banjo Club will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and Manager Ashland, 1913, desires the attendance of every member. A new plan is being tried providing that the Banjo Club members will learn their parts at home, and of having the rehearsals as short as possible. If this scheme works well it will be continued, but the club will revert to the other way if it proves unsatisfactory.
