IMMENSE TORCHLIGHT PARADE THIS EVENING

Progressives of Boston to Participate in Monster Celebration.

At 7:30 this evening the announced monster demonstration of the Progressive Party will take place and all Roosevelt men and others are invited to participate. At 7 or 8, sharp, all M. I. T. Progressives are to meet in Copley Square, where they will be joined by hundreds of other representatives from various other Massachusetts colleges. Ten or twelve bands in all will take part in the parade, and two or three de luxe cars will be on hand to greet the Tech enthusiasm, while several will escort the Harvard and Cambridge clubs to this point. From Copley Square the parade will proceed toward town, being joined by the five or ten thousand Boston men and women who will also aid in the celebration. The parade will then proceed to the Boston Common, where speeches will be given, and to the Boston Public Library, where a large meeting will be held. Ten or twelve bands in all, including the reservation of the progressive elements, will be heard. Red, white and blue will be the colors for the torches. Men and women are urged to bring signs. Transparency is also needed by "the infant party," as it has arranged all, including the reservation of the Commonwealth's pageants. Red, white and blue will be the colors for the torches. Twenty-five cents for torches. Men are urged to bring signs. Transparency is also needed by "the infant party," as it has arranged all, including the reservation of the Commonwealth's pageants. Red, white and blue will be the colors for the torches.

ASSISTANT MANAGER.

Competition for Second Assistant

W. P. Keifer, business manager of the Tech Show, has called a competition for second assistant business manager. The competition will start Monday, November 4. The hour will be the first day of the season, and will probably be a big day, probably in a flyer. The Show will use three assistant business managers, and the work will be divided up as to the various departments. The competition will last through the early part of December. The first job of the contestants will be to sell tickets for the Kosser Dinner, and the next work will be that of securing advertising for the program of the Tech Show. The beauty of the idea is that there is a fine opportunity for becoming acquainted with business methods. The Show is one of the largest of the student activities, and a position on the business board means an opportunity of becoming General Manager in the candidate's senior year. The Show wants to make more money for the athletic teams this year, and in order to do that it will have to increase the amount of advertising in the program.

RELAY TIME TRIALS.

Owing to the bad weather yesterday, the Sophomore relay trials were postponed until Monday. It is hoped that the thousand relay will因而 turn out so that the strongest team possible may be picked.

The freshmen who were to compete on Friday were "too lazy" to show up at the field on Monday. This will be the last opportunity that the freshmen have to turn out, so all freshmen should show up, as the team is looking for some good "jocks" to replace some of the better men who will be away for Thanksgiving.

SOUTHERN CLUB.

Men From the South Get Together at Technology Club.

Last night the Southern Club held its second meeting and dinner at the Technology Club. A. R. H., president, was present, as were eighteen other members present and an enjoyable talk delivered by Judge C. C. Discus, New York and Mr. S. E. Humphrey, the president of the Tech club in the South. The meeting was very informal and most of the story "swapping." Next Wednesday, November 9, the club will hold a first of a series of dances at the Hotel Carlton.

WILSON CLUB WINNERS OF SUCCESSFUL DEBATE

Progressives Excel in Rebuttal, Enthusiasm Great Among Audience.

The debate held in Lowell yesterday afternoon between the Wilson Club and the Progressive Club proved to be one of the most intense. The Wilson Club being given the decision unanimously, Professor Clark of Harvard University, on giving the announcement of the judges, said that the Progressive improved greatly in their rebuttal. He stated, however, that the Wilson men were the better speakers, had the better arguments, and that their points were better presented.

Pastors as the first speaker of the Wilson Club put the high tariff and the trusts as the cause of the high cost of living. He said that while the Democrats took this as the main issue of the day, the Progressives, as part of their designated program of the day, put the protective tariff as the cause. The protective tariff, he claimed to be had, as it was not the trusts, but the trusts that are the cause. These men are to assemble at 7 o'clock in the Union with the rest of the men to listen to the plans of the route. It is imperative that these men be on hand promptly at 7 o'clock, as it is there that the route of the parade will be decided. These men are to assemble at 7 o'clock in the Union with the rest of the men to listen to the plans of the route. It is imperative that these men be on hand promptly at 7 o'clock, as it is there that the route of the parade will be decided.

HARE AND HOUND RUN.

The Varsity Team Will Lay Out Course for Annual Chase.

The Hare and Hound Club holds a run over the Fall handicap course Saturday afternoon, November 2, 1912, the train leaving the North Station at 11:45 to proceed to the Technology Club. About twenty-five cents for torches. Men are urged to bring signs. Transparency is also needed by "the infant party," as it has arranged all, including the reservation of the Commonwealth's pageants. Red, white and blue will be the colors for the torches. Twenty-five cents for torches. Men are urged to bring signs. Transparency is also needed by "the infant party," as it has arranged all, including the reservation of the Commonwealth's pageants. Red, white and blue will be the colors for the torches.

SEVEN O'CLOCK FOR ALL WILSON PARADES

Men Are to Meet in Union For Final Instructions of Route.

Final arrangements have been completed for the Colleges Men's Woodrow Wilson parade. At 7 o'clock tonight the parade will be distributed in the Union. At this time information as to the route of the parade will be given, and each man selling tickets for the uniform hare and with success. There are still, however, several courses left, and some will be spoken for at this time while the last were sold. The announcement was made by the club that men not having uniforms will not be barred from the parade. These men are to assemble at 7 o'clock in the Union with the rest of the men to listen to the plans of the route. It is imperative that these men be on hand promptly at 7 o'clock, as it is there that the route of the parade will be decided. These men are to assemble at 7 o'clock in the Union with the rest of the men to listen to the plans of the route. It is imperative that these men be on hand promptly at 7 o'clock, as it is there that the route of the parade will be decided.

PROGRESSIVES HOLD RALLY IN THE UNION

Mr. Connolly Talks on Characters of Candidates—Calls Roosevelt "Deep Thinker."

Yesterday noon, in the Union, Mr. James B. Connolly, a candidate for Congress on the Progressive ticket, gave a talk in which he spoke of the characters of the candidates for President and of Mr. Bird's candidacy for Governor in this State. Both the characters of the candidates and the possible outcome of the election were discussed.

Of the Presidential candidates he knows Mr. Roosevelt best. Mr. Roosevelt, he said, is a fine judge of character, having spent some years of his life among men in the cavalry, during which time Mr. Wilson was teaching. Mr. Connolly admitted that both Roosevelt and Wilson were deep thinkers, but he believed Roosevelt to be the greater. He said that Wilson thought plenty of time to think things over, whereas Mr. Roosevelt thought fast. In coming to appointments, he claimed that Taft would sign the appointment of an undersecretary, and that Roosevelt would refuse to sign till a man who he thought was a good man was named. He said that probably Roosevelt would be still as fast twenty-five or thirty years from now.

In turning his attention to Mr. Bird he read a letter sent him by one of Mr. Bird's employees in one of his mills in Walpole. It referred to the putting ten years ago of a new plant in one of his mills changing the thirteenth and eleven hour shifts to eight hour shifts, so that no employee worked over forty-four hours a week. He also referred to the wages before and after. He also told how Mr. Bird built a mill, which he called "Little cottages," and how after they had run over a year he hired the men to work for ten years he hired the cottages over to the men without further payment. He also established a pension system for the men, which becomes inefficient because of age he is retired from work on full pay. Among others of his kind, Mr. Connolly told a case where the father who worked in the mills died, leaving a wife and several children unprovided for. He came to Mr. Bird for advice and was told to come to draw her husband's wages as if she were married.