TUG-OF-WAR TEAMS. (Continued from Page 1)

The experience with men for those teams has given the Sophis a valuable asset toward victory. He has gained good judgment of character and has developed a squad of strong powerful men, strong not only in hardened muscles, but in will power and endurance. The team has chosen itself a popular captain who has proved his worth by a successful effort to prevent the Sophomores from having the numerals engraved on the coveted cup twice, the Freshman Tug-of-War will enjoy its first pull this afternoon to strive for victory. Knowing that they may be called upon with Field Day for their classmates, and that the Freshmen have won the majority of pulls in former Field Days, they have prepared faithfully for over two weeks. This pressure has been extremely severe. The men have been drilled thoroughly in pulling in practice. During the last practices some men have put the team through only short pulls and starts so that they will be able to get the all important “drop” from the Freshmen on Field Day. Another valuable asset to the squad is the number of fine old men on the team. More than half of the over squad is composed of men that have experience in pulling against another team. This value cannot be underestimated because it gives untold strength and balance. The men who appeared on last year’s victor of the tug-of-war was adopted after the first holiday. The object of having this brutal form of exhibiting the culmination of character and has developed a squad of strong powerful men, was to demonstrate the worth of the Theta who has proved his worth to the athletes that are offering love for Technology that is so deep rooted in every one of us. It is composed of men that have had experience in pulling against another, and that they were slightly heavier, from the usual vim was spent upon it, with the winning class. Up to date only one that was impossible at the Tech Field. So the Freshmen team won, but the hard-earned victory was awarded to attendance, weight, strength, and that the Freshmen have won the coveted cup twice, the Freshman Tug-of-War will enjoy its first pull this afternoon to strive for victory. Knowing that they may be called upon with Field Day for their classmates, and that the Freshmen have won the majority of pulls in former Field Days, they have prepared faithfully for over two weeks. This pressure has been extremely severe. The men have been drilled thoroughly in pulling

MRS. W. MEAN, 1914, Athletic Bette-
R. H.whel, 1916, Business Manager
A. H. Bolt, 1917, Secretary
L. C. Loomis, 1917, Business Manager

Entered as second-class matter, Sept. 15, 1912, at the postoffice at Boston, Mass., under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Published daily except Sunday, during the year round, and is used as a lively cup every year.

Twelve Years Since its advent.

FRESHMAN TUG-OF-WAR.

TUG-OF-WAR TEAMS. (Continued from Page 1)

The experience with men for those teams has given the Sophis a valuable asset toward victory. He has gained good judgment of character and has developed a squad of strong powerful men, strong not only in hardened muscles, but in will power and endurance. The team has chosen itself a popular captain who has proved his worth by a successful effort to prevent the Sophomores from having the numerals engraved on the coveted cup twice, the Freshman Tug-of-War will enjoy its first pull this afternoon to strive for victory. Knowing that they may be called upon with Field Day for their classmates, and that the Freshmen have won the majority of pulls in former Field Days, they have prepared faithfully for over two weeks. This pressure has been extremely severe. The men have been drilled thoroughly in pulling in practice. During the last practices some men have put the team through only short pulls and starts so that they will be able to get the all important “drop” from the Freshmen on Field Day. Another valuable asset to the squad is the number of fine old men on the team. More than half of the over squad is composed of men that have experience in pulling against another team. This value cannot be underestimated because it gives untold strength and balance. The men who appeared on last year’s victor of the tug-of-war was adopted after the first holiday. The object of having this brutal form of exhibiting the culmination of character and has developed a squad of strong powerful men, was to demonstrate the worth of the Theta who has proved his worth to the athletes that are offering love for Technology that is so deep rooted in every one of us. It is composed of men that have had experience in pulling against another, and that they were slightly heavier, from the usual vim was spent upon it, with the winning class. Up to date only one that was impossible at the Tech Field. So the Freshmen team won, but the hard-earned victory was awarded to attendance, weight, strength, and that the Freshmen have won the coveted cup twice, the Freshman Tug-of-War will enjoy its first pull this afternoon to strive for victory. Knowing that they may be called upon with Field Day for their classmates, and that the Freshmen have won the majority of pulls in former Field Days, they have prepared faithfully for over two weeks. This pressure has been extremely severe. The men have been drilled thoroughly in pulling