FOOTBALL GAME.

To imbue the Sophomore team with the fighting spirit, and after the kick-off by the Freshmen the former literally walked down the field carrying the Freshmen off their feet. Morse ran twenty-five yards through a blocking field for another touchdown. O'Brien kicked the goal and the formation among the rangers was unbounded. After this the Sophomores were heavily penalized for rough tactics, but they made up for it by two twenty-five-yard runs by O'Brien and Morse.

At this point, Murphy, the Freshman quarterback, was carried out in a frightful condition. His head was bathed in blood, his clothes were torn, and he was so weak that he had to be carried off the field by his symp timing teammates.

The fourth period commenced with the ball on the 41-yard line and in the possession of the Sophomores. This period was all Sophomore although only one touchdown was made. The Freshmen's defense weakened considerably, and Morse and O'Brien plunged through the line for gains, and after a march down the field he scored the third touchdown. The angle was difficult and O'Brien failed to kick the goal.

The game was characterized by the general attempt to revert to the old style of football, and the forward pass was used rather infrequently. The speed of the Sophomores availed for the defeat of the Freshmen. The latter had the better line, but the bet ter team won.
