HASTINGS TO MEET WRITERS OF LYRICS

Will Be in Union This Afternoon to Give Dance—More Songs Needed

Yesterday afternoon J. M. Hastings met the men who intend to write lyrics for the Tech Show. The number of songs is limited, but the good lyrics were received. It was decided to extend the time until Saturday, December 1, at 3 o'clock. The authority plans to use good lyrics as they come in. For the benefit of the men who were not able to get to the meeting last night or to the Kommer's dinner, T. E. Mendenhall, one of the authors of the book, will attend to the small round of the Union tonight at 5:30 o'clock to tell about the quality that good lyrics should possess to win a prize to the class with the best songs.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM HOLDS HANDICAP RACE

Run Over the Wakefield Course Saturday Afternoon From V. M. C. A. Gym

Next Saturday afternoon the annual Fall handicap cross-country race will be held at Wakefield over a course of about seven miles, which is the same as the team race run last year. Though not as hard as the Technological course, the Wakefield course is a good handicap over all kinds of ground, with a very little road running, and will test the men out in good style.

Three cups have been offered by the Hare and Hound Club, one each for first and second and one for the fastest actual time over the course. In addition to this the first four men finishing the time-trial course will win their own cups. During the run the weather was an exhibition in the sectional book case in the form of rain in one section and snow in another.

Last year the race was won by R. S. Wye, who captured the time prize as well as the handicap. This year the men are expected to show much better form. The courses are running fine.

The race is steadily well marked for the distance. The circumference of the course consists of two sections of 3½ miles and a section of 1½ miles.
