The first meeting of the English class for men on the Tech was held yesterday at 4 o'clock in the Great Hall. There were present, almost all of whom Miss Bates had met in the class last year. The course is in charge of Professor Bates, English Department, and she began her remarks by telling briefly the reasons of the names of the Tech. The Tech was at first called the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Since the above editorial was written, we have had previous experience on the New Scheme of Issuing Sign-Up Slips.
