MEETING IN MEMORY OF PROF. DESPREZELLE

President MacLaurin One of the Speakers at Cooper Hall Last Night.

At Copley Hall, last night, a meeting was held in memory of Prof. Desprezelle under the auspices of the Boston Society of Architects, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Boston Architectural Society. Among the decorations of the hall were some of the Professor's works. At the front, directly in back of the stage, was an immense drawing of a "Monument dans un Pantheon." On the other walls of the room stood various paintings in an adjoining room: "Studies for the Present Buildings," which were done while he was acting as an assistant, "Studies for the Peter Brigham Hospital, Boston Museum for Artillery," and many other works of equal value which the president showed to the audience.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Cipriani, who served as the speaker, said that Prof. Desprezelle came to America to teach at a time when a great change was taking place in architectural methods. He found at Tech pupils whose ambition was to learn something and to receive what he had to give. He gave them enthusiasm which, Mr. Cipriani says, "was not to be found in American students," and that it was not long before the student's ability was attracted to its ranks so frequently in America as elsewhere. This is hard to explain, since it is singularly difficult to fill the chairs of professorships in our schools of architecture with competent Americans. This difficulty has its compensations in the work which has been accomplished here.

SOPHOMORES TO MEET FRESHMAN FIVE TODAY

Second of Series of Games at Gym For Basketball Title.

The second of the series of basketball games between the Freshman and Sophomore classes will be played at the Gym today at 4:30 o'clock. The contest between the two teams is, without doubt, going to be exceedingly close and interesting one.

The rivalry between the two classes has been strong this year. The Sophomores won out on Field day and in the final meet last Saturday. The Freshmen won the first of the series of basketball games and have the incentive of a narrow meet so last week. Club will hold its regular monthly dinner room at 6 o'clock, and will give the supremacy to the Freshmen and end the first season for both teams. If the Sophomores win, another game will be necessary to settle the question of which is the better team, this giving each game one to its credit.

The Advertising Department of THE TECH is sorely in need of men, and it is starting a vigorous campaign for new members thereby offering a splendid opportunity to the many students of the Institute who are here or not at all associated with any activity. This competition is open to all men on the campus, and will always be a great asset to the student's career. At the same time, the students grasping this rare opportunity will find that they could not have entered a better Institute activity than THE TECH.

Elections to the various positions in the Finance Department take place at all time during the year. As soon as any of the men are voted on their ability or by their work on the paper that they have the necessary talent for such work as is required in the business end of THE TECH elections are held for the various positions, and the Business Staff and Board of Vol. 23, of THE TECH, will take place during the first week in April. This means that any and all men, starting out, will be enabled to make a position and to become acquainted with the business end of the paper. No previous experience is required, and the men taking this position will have little difficulty in making good.
