Mr. Murdock has touched a note which must be thoroughly considered before voting on the new constitution, and one which at the same time characterizes the situation very well. The new constitution offers but very little in the way of innovations or new conditions, and endeavors merely to put into effect the rights and powers of the Institute Committee as it now exists. The only new features that have been added are decidedly in favor of the student body, and it must be remembered that there has been almost no trouble of any kind should ever result from the adoption of such a document.

We must realize that they cannot be hampered by too many restrictions if the best interests of the Student Body.

The Committee on Arrangements will have President R. C. Macarthur, Cardinal O'Connell, Lieutenant-Governor Walsh and Major Plumer.

The following members of the committee will officiate as judges: R. J. Wiseman, 14; P. R. Porter, 15; W. J. Drummey, 15; B. P. Thomas, Jr., 15; T. C. Bonn, 15; L. Bousil, 15; G. J. Chambers, 15; B. D. Murphy, 14; R. J. Goodwin, 14; E. S. Camher, Jr., 14; Y. J. Galasso, 14; A. R. Graham, 16; and J. E. Wool, 16.
