The Sophomore's baseball team will play the Cambridge Latin School All-Stars at the field Saturday afternoon, at 2.30. The Cambridge team has some unusually good players, and it has defeated the Cambridge Latin School team by a score of 2 to 1. However, the Sophs have some good men, and the contest should be rather close. An average of twenty men have been showing up every day for practice, and they have been able to get two full teams for practice games. As the game starts promptly at 2.30 on Saturday, the Sophomores want the whole class out there by 2 o'clock, in order to get the cheering section in fighting trim.

T. C. A. TALK.

If a man is convicted of a crime punishable by a fine, and cannot pay the natural thing for the judge to do is to sentence him to prison to work off the fine, and the general public is usually ready to approve such action. But in a great many cases more good would be accomplished by putting the offender on probation, allowing him to go free, but making him live under the general supervision of a probation officer until he pays off the fine and shows his ability to lend a hand. When a man is sent to jail he, of course, loses his job and may lose the more important his self-respect. When he is again set free he is probably worse than before. His name has come出了 a job and is very likely to develop into a good citizen if he is allowed to go free, and is encouraged and helped to work. That is to say, in order to develop the best side of his nature and become a useful member of society, Experience has shown him that the probation system is a success, and at the present time many men who, under the old system would be in jail are paying off their fines from their wages. The delinquents are not the only beneficiaries of the probation plan, for many who are good men and would ordinarily be sentenced to the State or county $11.75. As a man on probation earns the State practically nothing, and as the chances of his paying anything is likely, he thinks that the suspended sentence makes the enforcement of law much cheaper.

Mr. Mulready defines probation as a "character test." He believes that everyone is good at heart, and that criminal institutions are largely due to surroundings and training. He says that under the suspended sentence a man is helped to develop the good side of his character, and for those who have never before had this opportunity, probation is surely a matter of common justice. He believes that men will usually take advantage of the opportunity and justify the trust reposed in them.

In closing, Mr. Mulready said that the probation movement needed men. No matter how much can be expected to reform without help, and for this reason brooding, sympathetic men are needed to advise and assist their less fortunate brothers. The truest happiness comes from service, and none of the most useful forms of service are as stretching forth one's hand to a fellowman, and fitting him to a better and more useful life.

1915 COMMITTEE MEETS.

The Senior Class Committee held its regular meeting yesterday. The orders for the printing of programs and invitations for Class Day were given to E. A. Wright, of Philadelphia. The remainder of the time was spent in discus-sing the budget.

1915 BOWLING MATCHES.

The Biological Society will hold its bowling this afternoon, at 4.15, Room 42, Pierce Building. The officers of the society have secured Dr. C. G. Page, of Harvard, to speak. Dr. Page is connected with the Micro-biology Department at that university and he will talk on subjects of interest to the students of Biology at the Institute. In his talk he will tell of the fermentation of certain carbohydrates as an aid to the identification of the Colon Faculties and the Ozenae Bacteria, two genera, the study of which is of vital importance to mankind.

Dr. Page should be able to interest the members of the society and give them much valuable information as he has conducted numerous investigations of bacilli and germs. Dr. Page is a new speaker to institute men, and this will be his first appearance before a local society. He is widely known in medical circles, however, and is noted for his many investigations and researches. In his talk this afternoon he will probably tell of some of his experiments.

ALL-TECH SMOKER.

The second number on the program promises to be about as interesting and exciting as the adventures of Dauntless Durham. The suspense will be almost as interesting to offer to the students for their thoughtful consideration.

The Biological Society will hold a special meeting this afternoon at 4.15, Room 43, Pierce Building. The members who have never before had this opportunity to discuss the budget will be interested in the report of Mr. Mulready. It is assured all, and it is hoped that many who have not previously taken an interest in the financial side of the society will attend.
