ECONOMICS CLUB

Name Adopted and Policy Outlined at Meeting Yesterday.

The meeting of students interested in sociology, held yesterday in King C., was small but very enthusiastic. A tentative constitution was put forward for discussion by J. K. F. K. but was thought by the majority to be too narrow to include students who, while interested in the subject of economics, are not professors.

The nature of a complete constitution was therefore held over until the next meeting, at which it is hoped a more representative attendance can be obtained.

The meeting then turned to the discussion of the policy of the club as it is a real need for the establishment of a constitution. As the general opinion was that the club should be for the general good of society, and not in any way to be a political organization, Mr. Urquhart was adopted: 'The object of the club shall be to promote the welfare of society, both economic and political questions.'

The name of the club was then discussed, and the Executive Committee of M. L. T. was adopted.

The time and place of the next meeting will be announced by the Executive Committee.

PRATT WILL CASE

WON BY TECHNOLOGY

Three-Quarters of a Million for School of Naval Architecture.

The Supreme Court has recently rendered a decision sustaining the will of Charles H. Pratt, the Boston attorney who left three-quarters of a million to Tech, and whereas the will was contested by ten of his cousins.

The money is to go towards the foundation of the Pratt School of Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering.

The terms of the will of Mr. Pratt's sister, who placed in the hands of trustees, the income to be added to the principal until the sum of $750,000 has accumulated, or, in any event, until twenty-one years after the testatrix's death, when the entire fund is to be turned over to the Institute for the benefit of this school.

This will be conditional upon the erection of a suitable building by the Institute authorities.
