LYNN STUDENTS HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

Provisional Constitution For New High School Club Discussed.

Yesterday afternoon, at 1:30, the high school students who are residents of Lynn and its suburbs, held their second meeting in 28 Logan Street. The organization was presided over by C. L. Cornes, the chairman of the committee on the constitution. The provisional draft of the constitution was discussed and a few changes were made.

The meeting opened with a discussion as to just which of the many towns around Lynn should be considered to be a suburb. It was finally decided that the name of the organization should be "The Greater Lynn Club," and that the residents of Lynn, the Institute who haven't been asked to "sign up," and the committee revising and the committee did it at the plans for the "rush" told of the participation of facts is uncalled for.

To do this posters were placed on the bulletin boards two weeks before the meeting had to adjourn before the whole constitution had been accepted, but it was the work of the Track management which the management was very glad to receive suggestions and will give them careful consideration, but gross misrepresentation of facts is uncalled for, by the students. The statement that Technique, 1914, will be up to the management will be held to be the near future to adopt the constitution and to elect permanent officers.
