SPECIAL MEETING OF INSTITUTE COMMITTEE

Ratification of List Submitted by the Tech Show Refuse Committee.

The special meeting of the Institute Committee which was called for the purpose of considering the nomination of officers for the Tech Show Refuse Committee, was held over by Vice-President Wyman, March 1, 1914, the question of adjournment not being considered at any meetings, and of the objections to the accepted Constitution were considered.

The management of the Tech Show submitted a list of nominees for the positions on the Refuse Committee, and asked for the approval of the Institute Committee. In view of the fact that the representative of the Show was not there and that the list was telephoned to the Committee, the latter ceased the following motion: "Moved, that the Institute Committee does not take action upon the list submitted to it by the management of the Tech Show, and that the list be returned to the sender.

Several activities who solicit advertising have refused to have printed the cards which the Institute Committee have requested them to do at this last meeting. They take this action because they are represented on the Committee. It is suggested that the members of the Committee see the men in these activities and explain to them the reasons back of the situation, and inform them that the action of this sort would make them unable to advertise against a student body.

The election of G. P. Allen to the Institute Committee has been ratified by the Committee. This election should have been ratified at a previous meeting, but through an error it was left out of the list which was submitted a list of nominees through the Special Exhibition Committee which was called for the purpose of considering the nomination of officers for the Tech Show Refuse Committee, was held over by Vice-President Wyman, March 1, 1914, the question of adjournment not being considered at any meetings, and of the objections to the accepted Constitution were considered.

The management of the Tech Show submitted a list of nominees for the positions on the Refuse Committee, and asked for the approval of the Institute Committee. In view of the fact that the representative of the Show was not there and that the list was telephoned to the Committee, the latter ceased the following motion: "Moved, that the Institute Committee does not take action upon the list submitted to it by the management of the Tech Show, and that the list be returned to the sender.

Several activities who solicit advertising have refused to have printed the cards which the Institute Committee have requested them to do at this last meeting. They take this action because they are represented on the Committee. It is suggested that the members of the Committee see the men in these activities and explain to them the reasons back of the situation, and inform them that the action of this sort would make them unable to advertise against a student body.

The election of G. P. Allen to the Institute Committee has been ratified by the Committee. This election should have been ratified at a previous meeting, but through an error it was left out of the list which was submitted a list of nominees through the Special Exhibition Committee which was called for the purpose of considering the nomination of officers for the Tech Show Refuse Committee, was held over by Vice-President Wyman, March 1, 1914, the question of adjournment not being considered at any meetings, and of the objections to the accepted Constitution were considered.

The management of the Tech Show submitted a list of nominees for the positions on the Refuse Committee, and asked for the approval of the Institute Committee. In view of the fact that the representative of the Show was not there and that the list was telephoned to the Committee, the latter ceased the following motion: "Moved, that the Institute Committee does not take action upon the list submitted to it by the management of the Tech Show, and that the list be returned to the sender.

Several activities who solicit advertising have refused to have printed the cards which the Institute Committee have requested them to do at this last meeting. They take this action because they are represented on the Committee. It is suggested that the members of the Committee see the men in these activities and explain to them the reasons back of the situation, and inform them that the action of this sort would make them unable to advertise against a student body.

The election of G. P. Allen to the Institute Committee has been ratified by the Committee. This election should have been ratified at a previous meeting, but through an error it was left out of the list which was submitted a list of nominees through the Special Exhibition Committee which was called for the purpose of considering the nomination of officers for the Tech Show Refuse Committee, was held over by Vice-President Wyman, March 1, 1914, the question of adjournment not being considered at any meetings, and of the objections to the accepted Constitution were considered.

The management of the Tech Show submitted a list of nominees for the positions on the Refuse Committee, and asked for the approval of the Institute Committee. In view of the fact that the representative of the Show was not there and that the list was telephoned to the Committee, the latter ceased the following motion: "Moved, that the Institute Committee does not take action upon the list submitted to it by the management of the Tech Show, and that the list be returned to the sender.

Several activities who solicit advertising have refused to have printed the cards which the Institute Committee have requested them to do at this last meeting. They take this action because they are represented on the Committee. It is suggested that the members of the Committee see the men in these activities and explain to them the reasons back of the situation, and inform them that the action of this sort would make them unable to advertise against a student body.

The election of G. P. Allen to the Institute Committee has been ratified by the Committee. This election should have been ratified at a previous meeting, but through an error it was left out of the list which was submitted a list of nominees through the Special Exhibition Committee which was called for the purpose of considering the nomination of officers for the Tech Show Refuse Committee, was held over by Vice-President Wyman, March 1, 1914, the question of adjournment not being considered at any meetings, and of the objections to the accepted Constitution were considered.

The management of the Tech Show submitted a list of nominees for the positions on the Refuse Committee, and asked for the approval of the Institute Committee. In view of the fact that the representative of the Show was not there and that the list was telephoned to the Committee, the latter ceased the following motion: "Moved, that the Institute Committee does not take action upon the list submitted to it by the management of the Tech Show, and that the list be returned to the sender.

Several activities who solicit advertising have refused to have printed the cards which the Institute Committee have requested them to do at this last meeting. They take this action because they are represented on the Committee. It is suggested that the members of the Committee see the men in these activities and explain to them the reasons back of the situation, and inform them that the action of this sort would make them unable to advertise against a student body.

The election of G. P. Allen to the Institute Committee has been ratified by the Committee. This election should have been ratified at a previous meeting, but through an error it was left out of the list which was submitted a list of nominees through the Special Exhibition Committee which was called for the purpose of considering the nomination of officers for the Tech Show Refuse Committee, was held over by Vice-President Wyman, March 1, 1914, the question of adjournment not being considered at any meetings, and of the objections to the accepted Constitution were considered.

The management of the Tech Show submitted a list of nominees for the positions on the Refuse Committee, and asked for the approval of the Institute Committee. In view of the fact that the representative of the Show was not there and that the list was telephoned to the Committee, the latter ceased the following motion: "Moved, that the Institute Committee does not take action upon the list submitted to it by the management of the Tech Show, and that the list be returned to the sender.

Several activities who solicit advertising have refused to have printed the cards which the Institute Committee have requested them to do at this last meeting. They take this action because they are represented on the Committee. It is suggested that the members of the Committee see the men in these activities and explain to them the reasons back of the situation, and inform them that the action of this sort would make them unable to advertise against a student body.

The election of G. P. Allen to the Institute Committee has been ratified by the Committee. This election should have been ratified at a previous meeting, but through an error it was left out of the list which was submitted a list of nominees through the Special Exhibition Committee which was called for the purpose of considering the nomination of officers for the Tech Show Refuse Committee, was held over by Vice-President Wyman, March 1, 1914, the question of adjournment not being considered at any meetings, and of the objections to the accepted Constitution were considered.

The management of the Tech Show submitted a list of nominees for the positions on the Refuse Committee, and asked for the approval of the Institute Committee. In view of the fact that the representative of the Show was not there and that the list was telephoned to the Committee, the latter ceased the following motion: "Moved, that the Institute Committee does not take action upon the list submitted to it by the management of the Tech Show, and that the list be returned to the sender.

Several activities who solicit advertising have refused to have printed the cards which the Institute Committee have requested them to do at this last meeting. They take this action because they are represented on the Committee. It is suggested that the members of the Committee see the men in these activities and explain to them the reasons back of the situation, and inform them that the action of this sort would make them unable to advertise against a student body.

The election of G. P. Allen to the Institute Committee has been ratified by the Committee. This election should have been ratified at a previous meeting, but through an error it was left out of the list which was submitted a list of nominees through the Special Exhibition Committee which was called for the purpose of considering the nomination of officers for the Tech Show Refuse Committee, was held over by Vice-President Wyman, March 1, 1914, the question of adjournment not being considered at any meetings, and of the objections to the accepted Constitution were considered.

The management of the Tech Show submitted a list of nominees for the positions on the Refuse Committee, and asked for the approval of the Institute Committee. In view of the fact that the representative of the Show was not there and that the list was telephoned to the Committee, the latter ceased the following motion: "Moved, that the Institute Committee does not take action upon the list submitted to it by the management of the Tech Show, and that the list be returned to the sender.

Several activities who solicit advertising have refused to have printed the cards which the Institute Committee have requested them to do at this last meeting. They take this action because they are represented on the Committee. It is suggested that the members of the Committee see the men in these activities and explain to them the reasons back of the situation, and inform them that the action of this sort would make them unable to advertise against a student body.