STUDENTS TO SUBMIT
CO-OPERATIVE REPORT

Investigations Made by Members of Prof. Pearson's Class

Now Completed.

The report on a plan for a new M. I. T. co-operative society, which being prepared by four members of

Professor Pearson's Argumentation and Debate class, will be submitted at the regular meeting of the class today. These students have been carefully investigating the possibility of organizing an improved co-operative system, but it is expected that their report will include mainly responses to their questions.

The committee has been largely given to the study of the Harvard Co-operative Society. At Harvard the society mainsists of a store, at which goods are sold at the usual prices. The profits are divided between the shareholders in proportion of the amounts they have purchased. The shareholders are also able to obtain discounts at different retail stores.

laying out and marking the lines of the finished product. The drafting room, where all plans and details for the boilers are carefully worked out, will be visited first.

The process of laying out and marking the lines on the plates will next be observed. Then the party will be shown through the whole plant, each step being carefully pointed out to them by a guide.

Mr. A. H. Parsons has been obtained as the speaker for the occasion.

Mr. Parsons, until recently, has been a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and has made many contributions to the literature of the subject.

Pretty fast times are made at that

Pennsylvania coal field, and it was the first time in several yeats that the track was in good condition.

CHESS TOURNAMENT.

Technology to Meet the Colby

College Team Today.

The Technology Chess Club will meet the Colby College chess team in a match at the Union at 2 o'clock to-today. The consensus of opinion is that the Technology trio will have an easy time with the Maine ivory pushers.

by way of comparison, the Harvard chess team defeated the Colby men nine hands to one yesterday by a score of 5 to 2.

The Technology Inter-club tournament, and represent the best players that there is in the State in the way of chess players.

BROTHERHOOD SUPPER

To Be Held at Trinity House

This Evening.

The Technology Chapter of the Brotherhood of Saint Andrew will give a supper this evening at the Trinity House, 22 St. James avenue.

The affair is open to all students, and is expected to be a great success.

All good things are expected to be served.
