THE CHOCOLATES

FOR SALE AT THE UNION
NEW CONTINUALLY,

PRIZE DRILL

M. J. T. Regiment will give an exhibition drill and parade. The committee in charge of the drill depends upon the sale of tickets for the necessary funds, hence they are anxious that as many as possible be present. Tickets are on sale at the Union, at 10 cents each.

Major Cole hopes that the Regiment will make a good showing before the high school cadets, and asks that every member cooperate to give a good drill. It is especially important that each man should be in complete uniform with clean white gloves. No excuse will be accepted for unsatisfactory work, even if the weather is rainy.

The crowd at the Drill Saturday was some larger than at the indoor meet, but there is still room for improvement.

Velvet is never dull.

There isn't a tiresome moment in a thousand tins. It satisfies the thoughtful, inspires the stupid, makes amiable the cynic.

Not a burn or bite to mar its tempting richness.
