NEW CONSTITUTION

ADOPTED BY CHEMISTS

At First Meeting Yesterday Dues Are Raised and By-Laws Are Changed.

The Chemical Society held its first meeting yesterday afternoon in 23 Walker. The meeting was for the consideration of the constitution which was drawn up by a committee last year, but which did not come to a vote at that time.

After President Dickson had called the meeting to order and had announced that the old constitution and by-laws would be suspended through this meeting, Secretary Gould read the new constitution and by-laws. These new drafts had been prepared to the Society twice last year for preliminary approval, and no action or discussion of each separate article was taken.

After the constitution and by-laws had been read, Dickson outlined the principal changes that have been made. The dues were raised from fifty cents to one dollar, and the majority of those present, made necessary for the carrying of measure instead of a three-fourths vote, inasmuch as there will be one quarter of the total membership, and provision made for representation on the Institute Committee and on the Finance Committee.

On a motion by A. H. Wait the question of the adoption of the constitution as read was taken up separately. On a rising vote the new constitution was accepted unanimously by those present. Then after considerable discussion as to the most of raising the dues a vote was taken on the by-laws, and they were also accepted unanimously.

Hale speaking on behalf of the new constitution and by-laws would enable the Committee to procure several important speakers from other cities, and would enable the Society to have as speakers the men who are at the head of their particular line of work. He outlined some of the work the committee has already done and said that he hoped to have two speakers from the General Electric Company who would speak on some of the many topics connected with electrochemistry, and a man from Washington who could give an illustrated lecture on the interesting branch of pure chemistry which is connected with the use of liquid ammonia instead of water as a solvent and ionizing medium.

The Program Committee has also arranged for a meeting to be held at the end of the month, at which Dr. Albers, Special Lecturer on Business Law, will be the speaker. At this meeting the result of the special election for the Senior member of the Executive Committee will be announced. The position was made vacant by the resignation of Walker 14, who has gone to Harvard. Nominations for this office, signed by ten active members, are due at the Cage by 4:00 P. M. Wednesday, October 8.
