BUSINESS MEETING OF COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

Held in the Union Dining Room Yesterday Afternoon

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Cosmopolitan Club held a business meeting in the dining room of the Union, and plans were made for the present term.

At the last meeting of the Club a committee consisting of Professor Dotto, C. E. Fox, and Turpin was appointed to revise the constitution, and the amendments made were announced. They will be posted on the bulletin boards to be voted on at the next meeting. P. B. Kelly was nominated for second vice-president by the nominating committee, and all other nominations list containing the signatures of five members of the Club should be handed to Secretary Turpin this week before October 22.

The arrangement of the National dinners was made, and after a lengthy discussion the following dates were decided upon: Chinese night, November 9th; British night, the last week before the Christmas recess, and the annual dance at some intermediate time to be decided later by the dance committee.

The final business of the Club was to elect the following American students as members: C. W. Loomis, Stewart Keith, E. S. Goldsmith, N. E. Courtellet, A. C. Sherman, Jr., Alfred Hale, R. D. Salsbury, F. C. Foote, S. M. Fox, and W. X. Richborn.

CATHOLIC CLUB DINNER

Father Bruck, a 1900 Technology graduate, was the next speaker. He said he was glad to see how social life had developed here as Technology since his time. There was no place where the students could meet together as they can now in the Union. He spoke very highly of the Institute, and said that he considered the years spent here among the most profitable of his life. Tech men, he said, were here for good and not for rest; there is no bluff about it. This is the spirit that does things.

President Scanlon, the spiritual director of the Club, gave the closing talk. He urged the men to be loyal to the Institute and make the most of their advantages. If the good of this club could be idealised with the good of the other clubs, it would be possible to evolve a perfect man.

With Solomon to play the piano, a few of our familiar Tech songs were sung with great zest. A business meeting was then called and the president asked for suggestions for making the meetings more sociable. Mr. Spooner, who had been unable to attend the dinner, gave a short talk. He told about the Catholic Congress of Missionaries, which is to be held here next week, beginning Sunday. It is expected to be the largest congress ever held, eighty-five bishops to be present. He invited the Club to send delegates, and as a result of the invitation President Walsh and Robert Murphy were elected to attend the Congress.

"Keeping in Front"

You fellows know what that means! We've been very successful in this regard with Fatima Cigarettes. By the way, these were first sold in the college towns—and you agreed with us that they were good.

Then we put out for the big race, to make Fatimas of nation-wide reputation, and today more are sold than any other cigarette in this country.

No purer, or more carefully chosen tobacco grows than that in Fatimas. We purposely put them in a plain inexpensive wrapper—in this way we can afford quality tobacco, and twenty of the cigarettes for 15 cents.

Now your college crew is of utmost importance to you—so is a good cigarette, and it's your aim in life to keep Fatimas in the lead—right up to where you first found them, and will always find them.

Success fellows! You started this cigarette on its successful career—and you pull a strong oar all over this country.
