SPECIAL COURSE IN FOOD MICROSCOPY

ECONOMICS CLUB

Professor Simeon C. Keith, at the special request of Professor Sedgewick, is considering the advisability of giving a short course in the "Use of Microscope in Food Investigation." The question of pure food is one of great importance, and the determination of adulterants, impurities, microorganisms, etc, in ordinary commercial foodstuffs, most of the time will be spend on such subjects. The course will be open to students at a third, fourth, and graduate paper of the Biological Course. It will probably run one hour a week for six weeks. All men interested are invited to meet at 8 P. M. next Thursday.

FIELD DAY PROSPECTS

The gun goes off to get the men used and this will probably be continued until Field Day. Of the candidates the following were on last year's team: Dickford, Bout-quet, Carus, Kingsley, H. C. Fulker, McRae and Spear. The remaining candidates are Allen, Burnap, Brooks, Bittner, Blackney, Berger, Berkowitz, Blanchard, Brophy, Delleo, Duggan, Early, Freeman, Wandle, Hands, Whittle, Jewett, Keith, MacRae and Spear.

1917 and 1916 Relay.
Both Field Day relay teams are working regularly out on the track every day and the present importance of the team will be held towards the end of the week. The Freshmen on Thursday and Sophomores this Friday. Coach Kanaly hopes that the men who intend trying out for the team will come out on the days of the trials, for it is extremely difficult to make all allowances for weather conditions and therefore hard to pick the right men.
