CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM TO GO TO HANOVER

Will Enter The N. E. I. C. Cross-Country Run On Friday—Team Picked.

The Technology Cross-Country Team starts from the North Station tomorrow morning at nine o'clock for Hanover, where the New England Intercollegiate Cross-Country Run is to be held this year. Nine colleges are to be represented. Those that stand the best chance of winning first are Brown, University of Maine, Dartmouth, and Technology.

Tech stands a very good chance for first place. The men on the team are Captain A. F. Nye, H. S. Benson, A. A. Cook, R. M. Newby, C. S. Lee, C. T. Garthcig, and C. H. Willson. It has been proposed that a large body of students escort the team to the station and give them a rousing send-off.

ECONOMICS CLUB

In order to bring out the distinction between a definition and a conception, the speaker mentioned the method of study in the course in vertebrate anatomy, which is taking this term. The course does not consist merely of the classifying and pigeon-holing of the various vertebrates, but branches out into a consideration of their physiology, embryology, histology, etc., in order that a true conception might be gained of the relation of the anatomy to the external environment, both past and present. In the main, however, Socialism must be considered as something more than merely a dry and mechanical shifting from one system of production to another—it must be understood as a living and growing thing, vitally bound up with the great theories which it was the first to propound. The Utopians, of the last century, he continued, were merely a party of short-sighted men; Party that the Socialist Party is not, and is able to call attention to one half of which is casting discredit on the Institution. The habit of Neglecting to observe common decency in the Union dining-room. We mention this, not because a desire to be critical, but in the hope of influencing the actions of the members. The next meeting of the Club will be held two weeks from yesterday. This adoption of a viewpoint such as Kuttner's, by destroying the idea of economic law, and may thus be considered as more rational and scientific than that of the Utopian schools. The Socialist movement to the same level with reform schemes, and strip it of its main significance as well as of its dignity. It would justify the accusation of the Socialist Labor Party that the Socialist Party is merely a party of short sighted schemes with no true conception of Marxism. With emphasis on this point that the speaker brought his remarks to a close.

The next meeting of the Club will be held two weeks from yesterday. A speaker will probably be secured. Since several suggestions for questions will be the subject of entering the Union. The officers hope that any man having ideas for the meetings will not be bashful about announcing them.
