YISH-KA-BIBBLE

You should worry: Now the greatest news of this collegiate year has been let out of the bag and all of the undergraduate body has been discussing with bated breath and increased excitement "Yish-ka-bible." In fact, students have been set talking to such an extent as to seriously interfere with their classroom work and one of the professors was known to exclaim yesterday after an unusually disturbed recreation: "Although I appreciate the necessity of supporting student activities, still I should desire that the form of entertainment be given to raise the necessary funds were not so much the quantity of the enjoyment as to cause preliminary specification thereon to exceed all bounds and seriously interfere with the more important work of the classroom."

Apologies are due this and other professors who have been similarly disturbed, but still we may be admitted that "Yish-ka-bible" will be the best combination of talent ever before collected in the Institute. It is not so much the quantity of the entertainment that is to be provided that merits all the praise that has been heaped upon it from all sides, but rather the quality of the amusement to be arranged. For there

ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY

Prof. Taylor To Announce Prize-Winners in Contest.

Tonight at seven-thirty the Architectural Engineering Society and the Architectural Society will meet jointly in the lecture hall on the fourth floor of the Pierce Building. The prizes in the recent problem contest will be awarded at this time by Prof. Taylor of the Architectural Society. Prof. C. H. Hopkins of the Architectural Society will open the meeting and Prof. Lawrence will probably preside.

In addition to the prize announcements the program will be featured by two speakers. Professor H. E. Chilton, professor of architecture at Harvard, and Mr. Guy Lowell, '94, professor Clifford's lecture will be upon the subject of Illumination. Mr. Lowell has the distinction of being the winner of the competition for a design for the New York County Court House.

The committee urgently requests that every member of the Society make special effort to be present.

If not to receive a prize, to congratulate the winners. On account of the importance of the meeting and the excellence of the program, an entrance fee of twenty-five cents has been decided upon.
