substances in the interior of the earth. In an interesting paper read before the French Academy of Science some striking discoveries were announced by Professor Mouroet, who has been working in conjunction with M. Lapage. He states that fire-damp constantly contains very large proportions of helium, together with other rare gases. Thus four thousand cubic yards of helium a year are emitted into the atmosphere from the mines of Penrith, east, in Westphalia. Coal, however, only contains the very smallest quantities of helium and thorium, insufficient to explain the production of so much helium. It is beyond doubt, according to the professor, under these conditions that the helium which abounds in fire-damp is principally fossilised helium, dating back to the carboniferous age—which would make it thus between fifty and one hundred million years old.

JUNIOR BASEBALL
At the meeting of the Junior Baseball men yesterday it was decided to play the Rindge Technical School at the Russell Field in Cambridge on Saturday. All of last year's men and all those men interested are to meet in the Union at 1:15 P. M. tomorrow. The battery will probably be Parsons, pitcher, and Stevens, catcher. On Tuesday the Junior team will meet the Sophomores at the Tech Field, so that men who do not get a chance to play Saturday may get a chance on Tuesday.

UNITED STATES MINT IS DRAINED DRY

Appalling Decrease of Quarters Renders Quick Action Necessary.

"Twenty-five cent pieces are scarcer than the molars of the domestic fowl. Thus runs the report from the sub treasury, that institute's Croesus that controls the foyles of all Tech men. "What is this Spring Meat that is using up all our disks so fast" asks the coin experts. "We have heard of the great demand for meat among the lower classes in the spring, but this exceeds all bounds."

"Cement topped and ivory domed Solomon's" responds the Track Management by Herz oscillation, "the huge demand is not for Spring Meat but Spring Meet, and the disturbances are confined to aspirers and dispersers of knowledge, not to the lower classes. We are sorry if we have incommended you, but really we see no reason why we should deny these wonderful animals that meet which is food for thought, for expression, and for education, simply to satisfy the lust of Capital."

This is the present situation in a nutshell. The Track Team at last has its long deserved corner on quadrants. Thus Junior Week began. Thus Junior Week begins with aspiring Choruses, pergurning Professors, and aspiring Students. The class have been school chums, choice aggregation they are. The starter is a gumman, the timers are "dry dx" men, the scorers are volt thieves, and the inspectors against buttercups for a living. The men who run the meet are every bit as important as the men who run in the meet, and each one is carefully selected, oak barked and pitiful.

The spirit of the affair is indomitable. But Thomas the chief cook, flying all allegiances of swelled head, lies in bed with the mange and dictates the details of the campaign. Hurdlers are laid up with tango knee, planning their return in the morning of the seventeenth, the very thrill in the air will cause the stupid denizens of the money market to revolve, "what is this Spring Meet anyway?"

1917 BALL PRACTICE

The Freshman Baseball squad will hold practice this afternoon at the field at four, in preparation for the game tomorrow with Hyde Park. There was a scarcity of catchers at the last practice and it is hoped that more will come out today. Men must bring their own bats and bats as the Class has no money at the disposal of the team until the baseball assessment has been collected. The names of the men who make the trip will be published to tomorrow's TECH.
