SPRING CONCERT GIVEN LAST EVENING AT THE COPEY PLAZA

Large and Enthusiastic Audience Hears Excellent Concert of Musical Clubs.

Last evening the annual Spring Concert given by the combined Techology Musical Clubs was held in the ball room of the Copley-Plaza at 8.30 o'clock. All the numbers were very well given and were well received.

The first number, which was “The Song Of The Cannibal,” was given by the Glee Club with much expression. The next number, given by the Glee Club Quartet “Lucky Jim” was a pathetic little unit telling of two fellows in love with the same girl and of whom “Lucky Jim” was dead shortly after and she married the other but according to the song Jim was still the lucky man. The first encore was “Sitting Around The Fire” and the second a short stunt, “Going To Press,” which caused much amusement. The “Song of The Boatmen on the Volga” by the Mandolin Club followed as the eighth number which was supplemented by “Hope-Krack.” The last piece on the program was the “Stein Song” given by the combined clubs, with the audience standing and a few joining in.

Dancing began at 10 o'clock and continued until 2 this morning. The list of dances was very carefully made out, although the One Step was given much more prominence than the Waltz. The list of dances was as follows: “Good Bye Summer,” “Out and Get Under,” “Isle D’Amour,” “Adele.”
