Pease is treading the quarter off the record in last time, and he will be right with Gostling at the finish in the New England. His time on Saturday was the feature of the meet.

Bill Durrer, Harvard's track captain, made good in the sprints at the Cornell meet. His time of 21.5 is only 1.5 of a second slower than the world's record for the furlong.

Huff will be up against a strong man when he meets Braun of Dartmouth in both the high and low hurdles at the New England meet. Braun topped the high sticks in 15.4-5 at Pennsylvania Saturday.

Wees of Colby, last year's national interscholastic two-mile champion, who was expected by many to win the event at the New England, was defeated by Emery of Holy Cross in 16.38 on Saturday.

Olson, Dartmouth's sprint star, pulled a tendon in the hundred at Pennsylvania and will probably be out of the New England. As Tech is weak in the sprints, it will help our score as well as lowering Dartmouth's.

Hedlund's sprint was too much for Cook Saturday, but the B. A. A. man was forced to his limit in order to win.

Sullivan is coming into form in his jumps, and as all the New England colleges are weak in this event, he should score in the intercollegiates.

Fifteen teams are entered in theaternity Baseball league at Penn.
