Editor: H. L. Leboll. Associate: J. M. DeBell.

to-day, the Tech extends on behalf of the Institute its heartiest greetings, not in the sarcastic tone adopted at institutions with different traditions, nor in mere words of welcome, but in the true Technology spirit of active cooperation. It is our sincere aim to help you to the best of our ability in solving the problems you must face.

realizing that columns of "good advice" is not what you are looking for at this time, we content ourselves with calling your attention to the following excellent "Rules for Freshmen" quoted from the Ohio State "Lantern":

"Get acquainted with each other. A friend in college is worth two at home—right now—even though she or he write regularly.

Take a long time to pick out your crowd. You have your whole college to live with. Be a stitcher! A postage stamp is popular—and useful. Your name may be stuck on a diploma, too. Some will.

Study! That's why you came, to study. Take a long time to pick out your course. You have your whole college to live with. Be a stitcher! A postage stamp is popular—and useful. Your name may be stuck on a diploma, too. Some will.

right to know our reasons for thinking the change a decided step in advance. First, the past few years have shown that there is not enough "live" news at the Institute to enable us to, cut each item down to the best of our ability in solving the problems you must face.
