Plans for Tech Night after Field Day on November the sixth are slowly progressing. The Committee in charge, in accordance with the custom of previous years, have decided to see "The Passing Show of 1914" at the Shubert. All the seats in the house have been turned over to the Committee who have put them on sale in the corridor in Rogers from one to two, every day both this week and next. The prices are the same as the regular theatre prices. As has been the custom, the Freshmen have been in the gallery, the Sophomores in the balcony boxes, the Upperclassmen in the orchestra while the various Field Day teams have the lower boxes. Any party of fellows may engage a block of twenty-five or more seats, but these will only be held during this week. After next week every seat unsoled will be put up for individual sale.
