M. E. SOCIETY (Continued from Page One)

and the dumping of waste into the river. The river is low at times and the mills often suffer for lack of water; and the water is kept too hot by condenser water for efficiency in the mills.

The report of the Commission provides for a cold water tube from the ponds down the river to the mills, and for warm water tubes containing the effluent water from the mills. A sewer system for the rest of the city and the development of the flats are planned, so that the city can be improved.

Professor Miller then spoke on the values of the American Society to the men when they become practising engineers. An amendment to the Constitution was proposed, opening admission to members of Course XV, October 2. The meeting was concluded with the Stein Song and refreshments.
