TEN YEARS AGO

The Committees of the Technology and Harvard Corporations were considering the possibility of an alliance between the two institutions. The plan proposed contemplated a division of the educational field with the idea of "eliminating competition to the mutual advantage of both.

About forty instructors and assistants met in 11 Engineering B to form what was officially called the "Instructors Club of the Institute of Technology."

Tonight is the anniversary of the "Tech Riot." After the customary Republican parade before presidential elections, about 500 Technology students gathered on Rogers steps to cheer for "Teddy" and the other candidates. The parade, believing the peace of the city endangered, charged the crowd using night sticks freely and over a dozen men were injured so badly that it was necessary to have a surgeon called to dress their wounds. As a result of the hearing the Board of Police, on the second of January, reduced one captain, a lieutenant and three sergeants to lower ranks and over a dozen men were injured so badly that it was necessary to have a surgeon called to dress their wounds.
