THE TECH, BOSTON, MASS., MONDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1914.

IN CHARGE OF THIS ISSUE.
Koehn, E. W., Rec. Editor.

A Cooperative Society which will really co-operate is a thing which we have long needed, and which, according to the present Technology Monthly, is now likely to be realized. The work of the Committee has been as efficient as it has been painstaking and thorough, and has led to the result that the Alliance with the Harvard Cooperative Society is the most profound pleasure and amiable surprise. We hope the matter will receive the careful consideration of the student body, and in the light of the discussion will be acted upon by the Institute Committee, or, if desirable necessary, by the Undergraduate Association.

"The Holy Supper is kept indeed.
In what we share with another's need.
Not what we give, but what we share.
For he gives whom the giver is rejoiced.
"At Christmas, while man is prone to give, and often to give too little, 'Technology' has been given an opportunity to realize and express the true Christmas spirit, the spirit of Universal Brotherhood. The Institute, in being asked to do the "Red Cross" has found itself in the position of realizing the true Christmas spirit.

The residence of the Institute is one of the most beautiful in the city; and to make it more beautiful is the business of all the Institute. The Institute has been given an opportunity to do something to realize and express the true Christmas spirit, the spirit of Universal Brotherhood. The Institute, in being asked to do the "Red Cross" has found itself in the position of realizing the true Christmas spirit.
