Illustrated Lecture To Be Given At Engineer's Club.

This evening at eight o'clock there will be a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in the Engineer's Club Hall on Arlington street. Members of the Mechanical Engineering Society of the Institute have been invited to attend.

Joseph C. Riley, Associate Professor of Heat Engineering at Technology College, will give an informal talk, illustrated with lantern slides on the new types of motors adapted to use in airplanes.

Mr. Albert A. Merrill will deliver an address on some experiments recently conducted with a new type of stable biplane and Mr. Greely S. Curtis of the Burgess Company of Marblehead will speak on several exceptions in aviation during the past year. Both of these lectures will be illustrated.

Exam Issue Friday

Special Section Of The Tech Giving Schedule.

The Tech is to publish a special issue Friday, containing the Mid-year exam schedule. The edition will be out at nine o'clock as usual, and will be on sale at all the regular stands. The paper will sell for five cents cash, and to those subscribers holding coupon books for one copy. The coupon, however, will not be recognized if they are already detached from the book, and they must be presented with the book. No issues will be sold if the coupon book is not presented.

The Tech calls attention to the fact that the exam schedule to be published is only provisional and tentative, and that it is not at all improbable that changes in the schedule will eventually be made in the final schedule issued by the Registrar.

Tech Show Music

Trials for the Tech Show Music were held Monday and Tuesday afternoon. The final selection will be completed on Saturday afternoon. Twenty-six men have submitted compositions. One of the pieces, a waltz, is to be featured, as it is considered exceptionally good. It is expected that every piece will be ready for the Tech Show Orchestra immediately after the mid-year vacation.
