BROWN DEFEATED

In the next bout "Scientific" Loo, Technology's 115-pounder, defeated Rice of Brown on decision after 15 minutes of strenuous work. During this bout Loo evidently did not like the work of the referee, "Doc" Pepp- sin, as he made a brave attempt to expel the latter upon this unsuspecting personage. The next bout, in the 125- pound class, was entirely footwork, executed in systematic fashion by "Skipper" Stebbins. After 15 minutes of aggressive work, "Skipper" won the decision. There were two bouts in the 125-pound class. In the first of these "Les" Hoffman showed great superiority over Waterman of Brown. In the first period "Les" nearly got a fall and in the second pinned Waterman to the mat by a half nelson and crotch hold. In the second bout "Slicker" Giles went against Storer, the best of the Brown men. In the first period both men were on part of the time, Giles having the edge. By skillful work in the second period, "Slicker" pulled his man into a forward chancery and bar hold and got a fall. Next came the bout in which "Jack" Wool defeated Rice in whirrwind manner. Rice started in to rush Wood off his feet but found that Wool could do a little rushing himself. After wresting an extra period "Jack" got a well earned decision. The last bout of the night was the one in which Captain Crowell defeated Ward of Brown in 12 minutes of fast work. "Brute"'s arm was injured during the second period but kept on playing without making the fact known. "Les" Hoffman showed great superiority over Waterman of Brown. map for the first score of the game. During the second half the puck was in Technology's territory most of the time but the playing was considerably faster than during the first period. Johnson, playing goal for Tech, made several good stops but after about seven minutes of play Sernald of Amherst shot the disc into the net for the final score of the game. Wooly and Ross starred for the winners, while Johnson, Gould and Fletcher excelled for Tech. Gould fractured his arm in the second period but kept on playing without making the fact known.
