IRRIGATION TALK

an adjacent valley, so a tunnel was drilled from the side of the canyon, for six miles underground, bringing the water out on the side of a hill. The apparently hard rock of the hill, upon weathering, turned to soft clay, thus upsetting all the calculations, and necessitating a concrete spillway for the canal.

About nine-tenths of all irrigation work is by gravity, but Mr. Newell cited one instance of a development on the Snake River in Idaho. The water which runs through is utilized for irrigation pumping four months out of the year, and the rest of the time it is sold to the people at extremely low rates, to be used for cooking, heating and similar domestic uses.

One case was cited where arid lands had been irrigated, and then swamped by over-irrigation, so that the Service is now engaged in reclaiming it a second time from the wasteful use of the water. This, however, must be overcome by educating the inhabitants in the utilization of the water.

George Randolph Chester
Famous Author, says:
"Why shouldn't a man be willing to recommend a tobacco which gives as cool, sweet and satisfying a smoke as Tuxedo?"

For Mentally Alert Men—Tuxedo

George Randolph Chester's "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" stories have delighted thousands through the mental alertness, good humor and keen mind shown by the wily promoter.

When George Randolph Chester writes of things typically American he knows what he is talking about; and when he endorses Tuxedo—the typically American tobacco—his endorsement carries great weight with the keen-minded, alert and brainy smokers of this country.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

is made especially to maintain the American spirit of good humor. Its constant use benefits a man in mind and body, by keeping him happy and physically fit.

Tuxedo is the finest Kentucky Burley—the world's premier smoking tobacco leaf—made absolutely non-biting by the original "Tuxedo Process" that has never been successfully imitated. Tuxedo is delightfully mild, fragrant, rich, and gives a cool and satisfying smoke. Tuxedo is in a class by itself.
