This document is a newspaper article from October 1, 1915, published by "The Tech". It includes a discussion about the "Blanket Tax" and mentions several events and individuals. The text is too long to transcribe fully, but it mentions the start of the 19th season of the Technological Association and highlights a talk given by Dr. A. Z. Conrad. It also includes a review of the "Blanket Tax" and mentions the implementation of the 1915-16 academic year. The document is rich in historical context and reflects the concerns and activities of the time. The text is a mix of news articles, editorials, and advertisements, typical of the period.