Rifle Club (Continued from Page One)

was unable to name the winner until last week, when the Naval Academy finally completed its score.

The results bring the team into first place with a total score of 838 out of a possible 900, or eleven points higher than the previous Intercollegiate record made in 1914 by the Naval Academy.

The match was shot on three ranges, two, three and five hundred yards, the first rapid fire and the other two slow fire. On both the two and five hundred ranges "possibles," that is ten consecutive bull's-eyes, were attained, while at the three hundred, the hardest range, one member of the team had a miss chalked up against him, which makes the record total score all the more commendable, as a possible five points were lost by this unfortunate occurrence.

Teams from all over the United States were entered in the match, many of them from colleges at which special care is taken in the development of a crack rifle team.

The members of the team will receive silver medals from the National Rifle Association, and the club will become the recipient for the year of the silver championship plaque of the N. R. A., upon which the name of the Institute will be engraved, along with previous holders of the title. This will be placed on exhibition in the Union as soon as received from the authorities at Washington. It is at present in the trophy room of the Naval Academy.

There will be two trips of the Rifle Club this week, one Tuesday and the other Saturday. A sign-up has already been posted for tomorrow's party, and members are requested to sign up at once.

The Executive Committee will meet today at five o'clock in the Union.
